MARION WARRIOR

DEDICATION

We, the senior class of 1946, dedicate this MARION WARRIOR to the members of the future graduating classes of Marion High. May they, too, have many enjoyable experiences along with their work and keep alive that unconquerable spirit of Marion High

Joe Parsons Says

When you begin to read this article, your first thought will be, "Is this going to be worth my reading time?"; and the thought in writing is, "Can I make this article worth the reader's time?"

Every person develops his own "pet ideas;" I have a few: you must continue to evolve yours.

History tells us that "Civilization is only a veneer," and we find that there has never been a civilized world. Just as we begin to emerge into the light of a civilized life, another war, and back into an era of "dog eat dog" again!

Religious history teaches us to cling to the "Rock of Ages." Out of the faith and experiences of World War II, Commander Lawrence Joers, Medical Corps, USNR, has written "God Is My Captain," which carries us through the tropical lagoons, into arctic moonlight, through the smoke of battle, and into the crisis of the horribly wounded man on the improvised operating table: a writer puts you and me squarely before our Maker and tests our courage to think about faith in God.

If you scratch the surface of civilization, you come upon a man, the savage. Take a supposition: reduce three thousand years B. C, and two thousand years A. D.(five thousand years) to 50 years. A man will do all that has been done in that five thousand years in fifty years. Then: he would live forty-nine years of his fifty before he would learn to plant a seed, harvest scant crops by hand, tame a few wild animals such as the cow or dog. At forty-nine years, six months, he invents writing: three months later he writes the first book; two weeks ago he invented the printing press, and has had the steam engine less than a week. Within the last few hours, the very morning of his last birthday, he will travel in the air and beneath the water.

A year ago our man was a savage, today a human being! I wonder!

HISTORY OF THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1946

I hold the world, but as the world a stage, on which every man must play a part.—Shakespeare.

In September '33 forty-one little boys and girls began their training on the stage of the Marion City Schools. In the Hill building with Miss Nellie Pyle as teacher were: Junior Case, Jackie Hawbecker, Wanda Hannaford, Suzanne Wheeler, Don Hoover, Mary Louise Tibbetts, Norma Jean Amick, and Laverna Knight.

In the valley with Miss McBride at teacher, were: Alfred Schmersey, Eileen Ecker, Virginia Hungerford, Bob Turner, Ronald Atkinson, Vernon Heidel, Jeanne Carpenter, and Jack Beaston and others who left Marion to continue their training on the stage of other schools.

In the second grade, Jeanne left us for Washington, D. C., and Suzanne went to Florence. A memorable experience of the year was a train trip of our class to Antelope, a place we had imagined to be New York.

In the third and fourth grades we stumbled through the usual pitfalls of long division and multiplication tables, had we also engaged in a more pleasurable experience of the study of the world, this stage where we are to play a part. Phyllis beu from Harper became a new member and Jeanne Carpenter rejoined our class.

In the fifth grade Miss Corby found us often so naughty that she had to shut us in the cloak room. Ed Fox came to us from Peabody that year.

In the sixth and seventh grade we began to take more seriously our responsibilities and to make noticeable progress in our achievements. In our seventh year the girls won first in baseball at Lost Springs. We gave a minstrel to earn money for the basketball suits for the junior high boys who won third place that year. The boys also won first place in soft ball and the following year they won first in track.

Jo Ann Kelsey from Aulne, Margery Ewert from Canada, and Betty Thompson from the country were added to our class role.

In the eighth grade we presented the operetta "Twilight Alley" with Jack Beaston as the gang leader, Phyllis Beu, the little poor girl, and Norma Jean Amick the rich woman.

At last we planned our eighth grade graduation exercises, a radio program presenting numbers by the class members. We recall Jeanne's reading "My First Date," an indication of a new developing interest to be pursued later in our high school life. Norma Jean gave the valedictory address and Phyllis Beu, the salutatory address.

In the fall of '42 we forty freshmen entered the portals of Marion High School to begin our second act in our drama of school life. Those who joined us from the country schools were: Will Helmer, Virginia Hayen, Ruth Kline, Harold Ehrlich, Betty Lou Longhofer, Howard Collett, Harold Conyers, Melvin Christner, Betty Weber, Dick Stafford, Frances and LaNorma Jean Schlotthauer.

After undergoing the ordeal of initiation we overcame our shyness and we buckled down to preparation of lessons. With La Verna Knight as president, we began our participation in school activities. Norma Jean and Phyllis had leading parts in the high school operetta, "Sunbonnet Sue." Jack Beaston, Harold Ehrlich, and Junior Case made a good beginning in football.

Dwight Waddell from Wichita joined us in our sophomore year. Jeanne Carpenter was our leader as president.

As Juniors we organized our class with Harold Ehrlich as president. Suzanne rejoined our class and Wallace Good comes to us from Sedgwick. Our chief interests centered around achievement in sports by Beaston, Ehrlich, Waddell, Case, and Good, and in activities to make money for the J.-Sr. banquet. Twenty class members had parts in our junior play "Hurrah for Youth." We worked long and hard to carry out our Hawaiian theme and to make plans for a most successful banquet. Betty Jean Tiemeier joined our class this year.

Ever faithful to our motto, "United we cheat, divided, we flunk," we have risen to the coveted position, known to the town as the Senior Class of '46—the dignitaries of Marion High! More brains and beauty joined us in the forms of Gene Stafford, Dorothy Abel and Charlene Kuhn. Our first class meeting resulted in the election of Wallace Good as president of the class.

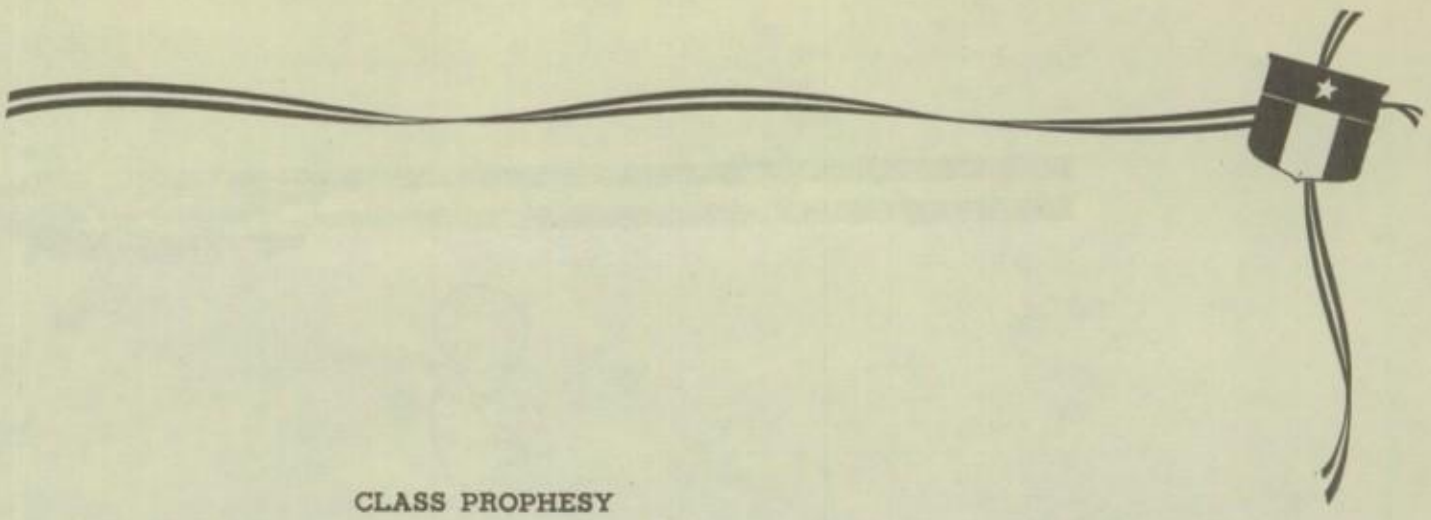
Lacking nothing in energy, the senior boys, with the able assistance of several junior and sophomore boys won the C. V. L. championship for Marion High. This brought their coveted trophy, which had not been in our possession since 1941, to grace the halls of our Alma Mater once again.

In order to provide the funds for our senior sneak day to K. C., the class sponsored a dinner and program in March. Ten days later, the class left at 4 a. m. in a chartered bus for K. C., returning at 4 a. m. the next morning tired but happy.

"Murder Mansion," a mystery-comedy starring LaVerna Knight and Jack Beaston was presented in April.

During our twelve years in school, we have gained not only the knowledge found in books, but also a touch of the give and take necessary to be a star on the stage of life.

And now we draw the closing curtain on the scene of our drama on the stage of Marion City Schools. Undoubtedly we have "brought down the house" as noble and shining actors and sincerely hope to do as well on whatever stage we choose to continue our work.



CLASS PROPHESY

Our sponsors, Miss Thomas and Mr. Parsons, decided that they had been giving too much time to the ignorance of the senior class, so they decided upon a fishing jaunt to the Marion Lake. Miss Thomas (of course, being an old fisherwoman at heart) had Mr. Parsons bait the hook while she hid her face in horror. Still a fisherwoman she started to throw out her line and got it hooked in her hair. The helpful Mr. Parsons took it out and threw it in the lake for her. Hours later the patient and quiet nerved Miss Thomas pulled out a bottle. She uncorked it and out popped a genie who could tell her anything she wanted to know. Of course, we all know that Miss Thomas had no idea of marriage, so she asked what the seniors would be doing in twenty-five years. These are the genie's words. Quote:

"Dorothy Abel and La Norma Schlotthauer will eventually hook the Stafford brothers and live together on a southern plantation."

"Margery Ewert and Joan Kelsey got so accustomed to working for Mr. Brodhead at the theater that they decided to go to Hollywood and do pictures themselves. Kelsey's next picture to be released from Warner Brothers is 'A Strawberry Blonde' in which she has a terrible time trapping a guy whose nick-name is 'Peggy', and Ewert's next picture is 'Bear Traps.' "

"Phyllis Beu went to college at Tabor and found herself that preacher husband which she has wanted ever since she went to church camp."

"Betty Weber's and Virginia Hungerford's 'husbands to be were finally discharged from the Army and so they are going to live happily ever after (in grass skirts.)"

"Dwight Waddell, Wallace Good, and Hank Collett have gotten together with their musical talent and are now giving floor shows in the dining halls of big hotels throughout the country. They were last seen at the Muehlbach in Kansas City."

"Beaston and Knight have started a little institution of their own. Jack, sr., warns Florence to watch out because Jack, jr., is pretty rugged."

"Virginia Hayen finally has that boy from Oklahoma to settle down on a farm and they are now raising cows, chickens and little Kaisers."

"Ronald Atkinson finally got Janice Heiberger back and are now living on a farm. Across the road live Will Helmer and Betty Thompson—childhood sweethearts."

"Charlene Kuhn and Eileen Ecker married their sailors soon after they graduated from high school. They lived several years down in Florida. It seems the boys just couldn't get away from the ocean or maybe it was the girls who couldn't leave the moonlight! ? !"

"Mary Louise Tibbetts and Wanda Hannaford went to college at C. W. C. and are now rather tied down taking care of their families. They live in Reno."

"Jeanne Carpenter and Norma Jean Amick went to college and studied all they could about horses. They now live on a big horse ranch in the West. Their husbands live nearby—making their living by hunting and trapping!"

"Suzy Wheeler has turned out to be a very good doctor. She was very disappointed when she found out she couldn't doctor people, but we are all very proud of her for she has received the honor of being the world's best veterinarian."

"Betty Longhofer and Frances Schlotthouer have won great fame over their profession. Betty plays the piano while Frances does a fan dance."

"Ruth Ann Kline got married to Harold Woerz soon after she graduated from high school. They live on a farm on which they raised only a large flock of sheep. Ruth Ann loves the little ones."

"Jackie Hawbecker has followed her sister's footsteps and is now teaching music. Don Larsen is still courting her—just can't take that big step forward! !"

"The most successful of the seniors of '46, was Harold Eugene Ehrlich who is now Head Athletic Director at Notre Dame after playing professional football and ice hockey for ten years after he was graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles."

"Junior Case hit pay dirt in his first year out of college. His rich uncle died and left his entire fortune, whereupon Junior promptly married his high school flame and now spends his time sleeping in his lakeside cabin."

"Margie Frazier finally managed to make Don propose but it seems that soon after their union Margie was forced to take all the responsibility of earning a living for her husband upon her shoulders and now is giving expression lessons to all the little children of the town."

"Ed Fox and Alfred Schmersey are now operating a night club in Kansas City. Schmersey tends the bar and Fox looks after the chorus girls."

"Melvin Christner is flying the biggest passenger plane in the world, for the Hoover Airlines which feature a round the world journey in 15 hours for the small sum of three dollars. Don Hoover, one of our former classmates is president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and director of the outstanding airline."

"Doc Heidel, ace detective of the FBI, informs us that Harold Conyers now has his picture in the National Rogues Gallery. He was held on man slaughter charges for nearly a month when he went temporarily insane when he heard the New York Symphony Orchestra conducted by master Robert Turner. They played the 'Old Gray Mare. Poor Bob, his Epitaph reads, 'By music he lived, because of music he died.' "

"Betty Tiemeier finally got hooked to that school-day flame from Hillsboro and they are now making their living through Betty's trombone playing."

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Know all men by these presents: That we the senior class of 1946 of Marion, Marion County, State of Kansas, being of unsound mind and undisposing mind and memory, and acting under fraud, duress, menace, and the undue influence of any person whatsoever, do make, publish and declare this our last will and testament in the manner following:

Dorothy Rose Abel wills her Einstein like brain to Earl Jantzen so a new Einstein theory will be developed and believe me it will be new.

Norma Jean Amick wills her man in every town in the state to Nadine Hett. Beware, fellows, she knows all the tricks.

Roy Ronald Atkinson wills his aeronautical ability to Billy Razor in hopes that he can keep them flying.

Jack Vernon Beaston wills his faithfulness in love to Dennis Youk which gives you plenty of leeway, Denny.

Phyllis Beu wills her coyness and flirtatious manner to Janice Socolofsky. The question is, does she need it?

Jeanne Antoinette Carpenter wills her art of losing things to Jean Hagans—she's dependable.

Alex Case, Jr. wills his energetic spirit and winning ways to William Zellers. With that, William, you can't help but win.

Melvin LeRoy Christner leaves his position as reel runner at the local cinema to those who are planning on a white collar job.

Howard Lee Collett wills his newly acquired wolfish ways to Marion Hett. Believe me, he gets around.

Harold Harry Conyers wills his shy manner toward girls to Warren Hayen. We think he needs it.

Eileen Ecker wills her slick figure to Naomi McIntosh. Naomi, you might try 15 push ups every night before retiring.

Harold Eugene Ehrlich wills his poetic genius and ways with the teachers to Don Schlotz.

Margery Ann Ewert wills her big ears, which she acquired by listening to all the conversations at the phone office, to Donna Powell.

Edward Burton Fox wills his pretty dark curls to Dale Vogel. Won't Dale look sweet.

Margie Grace Frazier wills her true and faithful boy friend to Violet Krispense. We hear it's been done before.

Wallace Eberle Good leaves his frequent trips to the country to LeRoy McDaris. There is a big reward waiting for you there but we hear Mac knows the way.

Wanda Clare Hannaford wills her truthful manner to Clyde Hiebert in hopes that his next flame will hear nothing but the truth!

Virginia Delores Hayen wills her cuteness to Dean Hansen. He looks nice in lipstick, too.

Vernon Lee Heidel wills his drawl to Wanda Ireland. We hope she will use it.

William Willie Helmer wills his long stride to Warren Woerz.

Jacquelin Joyce Hawbecker wills her saxophone pupils to Phyllis Larsen.

Donald Roy Hoover wills his steady attendance in school to Donnie Van Buren. Dull isn't it?

Virginia Ruth Hungerford wills her interest in the Army to anyone with interest in the Navy.

Ernest Haas wills his ability to argue to Billy Childs. Just a little advice, Billy, don't argue with Miss Thomas.

Donna Jo Ann Kelsey wills her job at Duckwall's to Donna Hobein. You have to work sometime, Donna.

Ruth Ann Kline wills her future relation to Vernie Knight, to anyone who can endure Vernie.

LaVerna Mae Knight wills her shape, in other words her Adams apple, to Anne Burkholder.

Rita Charlene Kuhn wills her pretty dark hair to Delores Edmunds. Wouldn't Delores make a cute blackhead?

Betty Lou Longhofer wills her height to Edna Mae Winter.

Frances Faye Schlotthauer wills her Herington boy friend to Cleo Kline. Cleo doesn't do so bad herself.

LaNorma Jean Schlotthauer wills her quiet manner to Coleen Vogel. Don't give up, Coleen, when you get to be a senior you'll be quiet and dignified like we are.

Alfred Franklin Schmersey wills his Pilsen stagger to Eddie Holub.

Dick Ambrose Stafford wills his M. H. S. sweethearts to Bob Reinke.

Gene Elvin Stafford wills his intellectual spirit to Kenneth Sly.

Mary Louise Tibbetts wills her ability to catch men to Imogene Mathiot.

Betty Jean Tiemeier wills her ability to play the trombone to Ruthie Byram.

Betty Jane Thompson wills her freckles to Pat Brose. With the ones Pat already has she'll be just one big fat freckle.

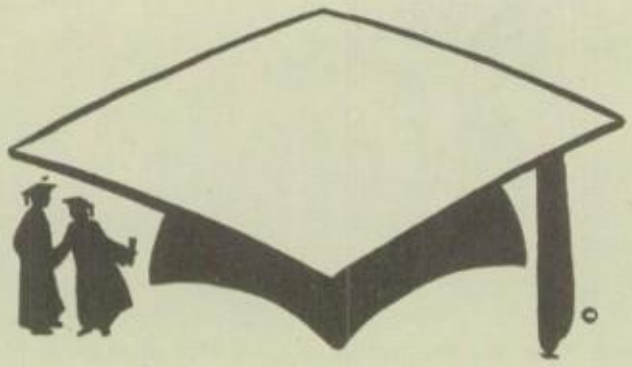
Bob Turner wills his Harry James technique on the trumpet to Bobbie Hein. Maybe next year you'll be able to hear the other instruments in the band.

Dwight Ernest Waddell wills his enormous height to Don Dody.

Betty Jean Weber wills her numerous boy friends to Corrine Longhofer.

Suzanne Wheeler wills her gift of gab to Rose Marie Dvorak. We really feel sorry for Rose Marie's classmates next year—we know.

Well, kids, there it is. We hope you can put the things we leave to you to as good or better use than we did. We will miss them but will try to get along without them just so you will have something to remember us by.



SENIOR POEM FOR 1946

Today, Marion High Stands Still
Grand and majestic on the town's eastern hill
Many classes from its halls have fared
But to the class of "46" none can compare.

We started as freshmen so green
A more studious bunch no man has ever seen
We studied from early morning until late at night
Just to make sure all our algebra problems were right.

That year everyone pushed us around
Of course we took it for granted a freshman's hands were bound
In general we were considered just grain
For as yet we hadn't started to use our brain.

Our sophomore year we started to play
Thinking—maybe studying wouldn't pay
Finally those grade cards went home, so punk
And our parents thought we're surely sunk.

Instead of hearing "Oh, how well you have done this six weeks"
You could see the anger rise in their cheeks
Then they would begin their lecture so fine,
By saying "You aren't worthy of being a child of mine."

Time passed rather swiftly now
For as juniors we began to put our shoulders to the plow.
We realized it wouldn't take long
And our years at Marion would be gone.

We worked and played with all our hearts
Just to prove the Junior Class really was smart.
Everything we did was full of vigor and zest.
Proving that our work was best

And now we've reached our last year
Day by day the end of high school is drawing near
We've done our best here at Old Marion High
So that her name among the leaders would never die.

All too fast in deep regret our last days here
Roll by as the high tide rolls away from the pier
When in later life with all people we've mixed.
Many of us will look back and say "Gosh, I'm glad I was a senior of '46."

And so as the Seniors of '46 leave Marion High
We look back on those good old days gone by
Of course, there shall always be memories so dear
That in the future our ship of life shall help to steer.

The Marion High School music department is truly one of the outstanding features of the school. Under the direction of Miss Maurine Hawbecker, the different musical organizations have become well known for their accomplishments

The M. H. S. band received a fine reputation as both a well-uniformed marching band and concert band at the Kansas State Fair in Hutchinson. The band also marched and played at the County Fair and all of the home football games. The pep band played for all of the home basketball games as well as many of the out of town games. The first band concert of the year was in March and was met with great approval as was the final one in May. The band was honored by receiving a highly superior rating at the Kansas State Music Festival at Emporia in April.

The outstanding recognition granted the vocal groups was also received at the Kansas State Music Festival. The Girls' Glee Club received a rating of highly superior as did the Triple Trio and Mixed Quartet. The Mixed Quartet also received a special honor by being recommended to the national contest. The Boys' Quartet got a superior rating, and the Boys' Glee Club, excellent.

The Marion "Warriors" as a result of being undefeated in the C. V. L. became the champion for 1945. Although their record is not enviable it is not a bad one in any sense of the word.

Moundridge was our first rival and the game was evenly matched throughout. After forty-eight minutes of battering football with each side having a touchdown called back, the score stood 0-0. The following week Cottonwood fell beneath the Warrior's power to a tune of 18 to 7. This was the beginning and Marion kept right on by defeating Enterprise 26 to 18, even though the visitors led 18 to 6 at halftime. The following week the "Warriors" met their first C. V. L. opponent and beat Hillsboro 41 to 6, the largest score of the season. By this time Marion's power was at its peak and the following week they met the powerful Florence Wildcats. With the score standing 6-2 and four minutes of play remaining, the Warriors scored a touchdown as a result of a Wildcat fumbled punt coupled with several penalties and a determination to win by the home team. The final score stood 8 to 6. After a week of rest, an underdog Council Grove team handed the Warriors their first loss of the season 6 to 0. Following this upset the Warriors lost a contest to the Herington "Railroaders" 32-12. With only one game remaining the "Warriors" journeyed to Peabody to play the deciding game of the C. V. L. After a bitterly fought contest, the score stood 6-6 but as a result of this time the C. V. L. trophy rested in Marion's hands for the first time in four years.

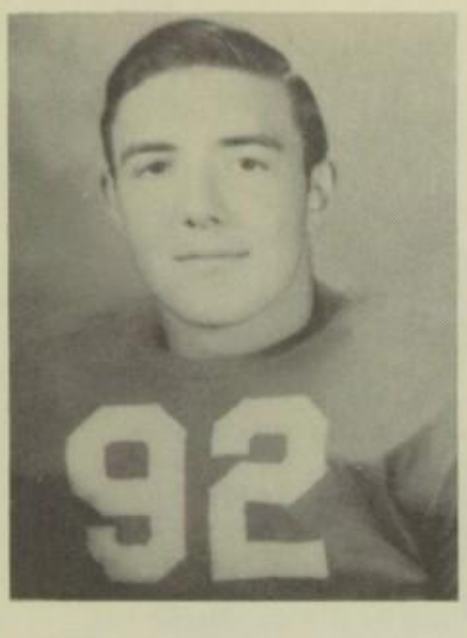
FOOTBALL

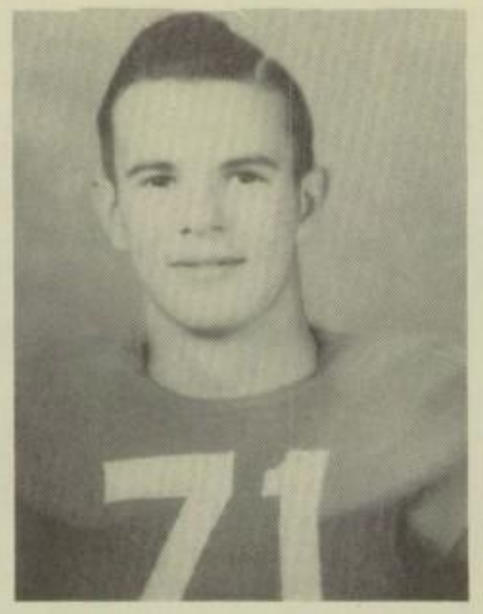
The students, football squad, and fans are united in their belief that Coach Parsons has done a splendid job in taking over the athletic teams of 1945-46.

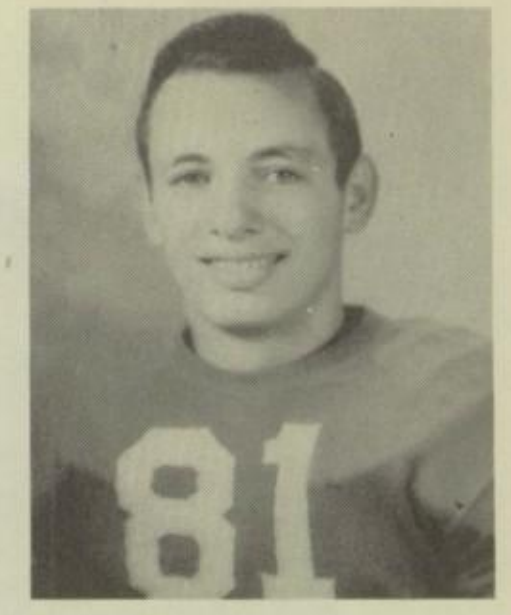
Having been a valuable player on the Emporia Teachers team in his college days and having coached championship teams in Texas, the team was in very capable hands. There are very few situations in football as well as basketball and track which cannot be defined by his clear thinking.

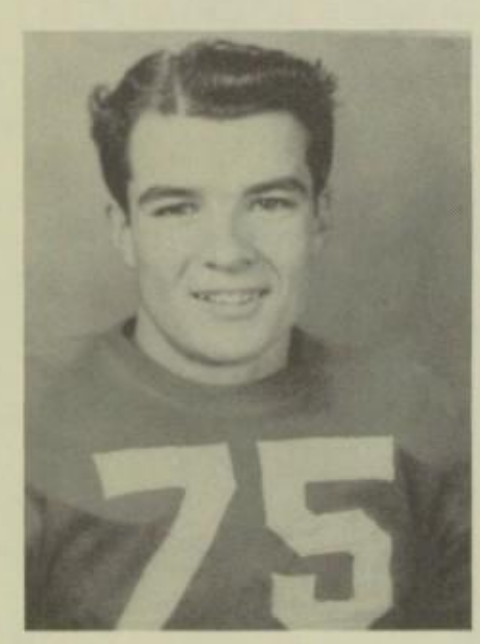
Coach Parsons did not have a select group of veterans to start the season but rather a group of inexperienced men. However his ability to put his ideas across took care of this situation and the Warriors enjoyed a very good season.

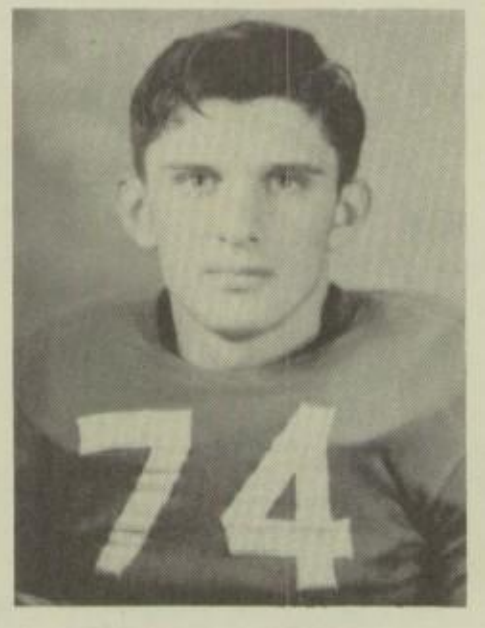
As "Coach" his main pride was teaching clean athletics and good sportsmanship which the teams have shown, at all times.

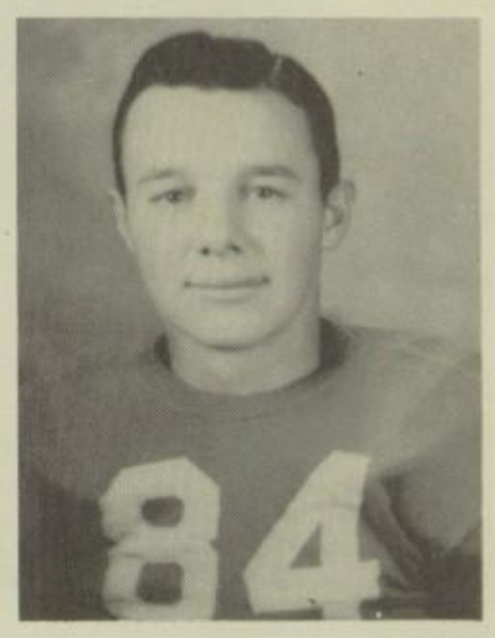


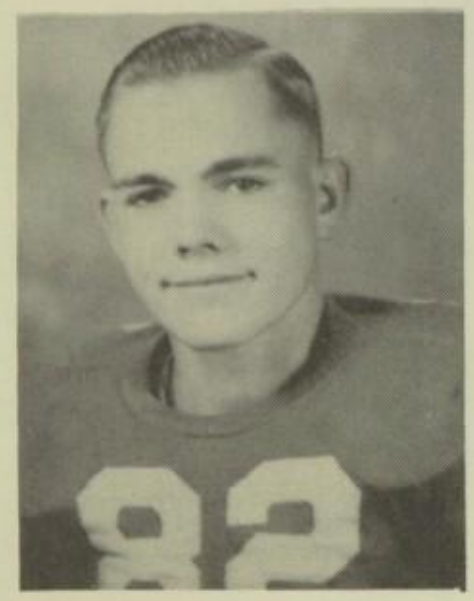


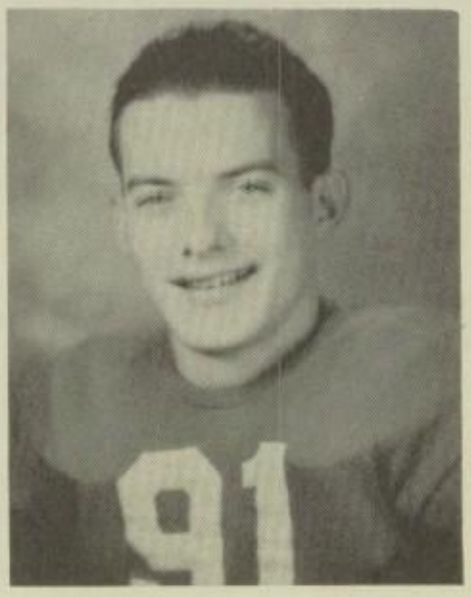


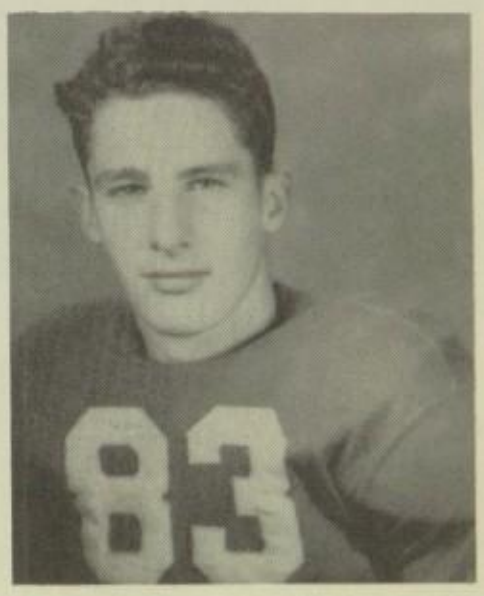












Harold "Tiny" Ehrlich— Senior — Capt.". This was "Tiny's" third year on he Warrior team. Prior to this year he layed tackle but played fullback this year. He was captain of this fine team of "46".

Dwight Waddell—Senior—This was Dwight's first year on the first squad. His ability to shift coupled with his speed and accuracy of catching passes made up for his size.

Harold "Harry" Conyers—Senior— "Harry" possessed the requirements of a good guard and his love for the game made him one of the outstanding defensive men on the team.

Jack "Spider" Beaston—Senior—Although Jack was considered small he could take more than any man according to his size. At all times he was quick and cool-headed, a successful engineer of the team.

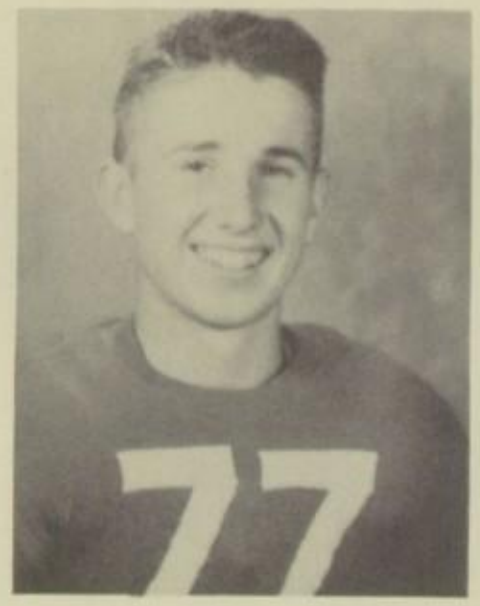
Clyde Hiebert—Junior—Clyde is an excellent and a hard hitting half back. Due to injuries he was forced out of several games during the season. He will be the mainstay of the returning lettermen.

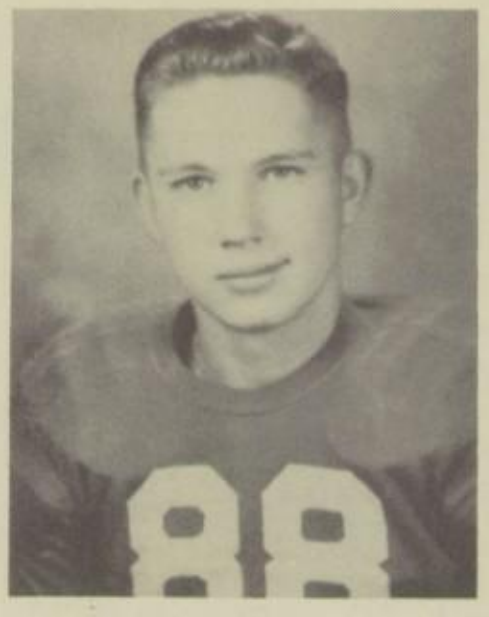
Vernon "Doc" Heidel—Senior—During the past year "Doc" has been performing at right tackle. He played a good defensive game and more than once he broke up a play before it got started.

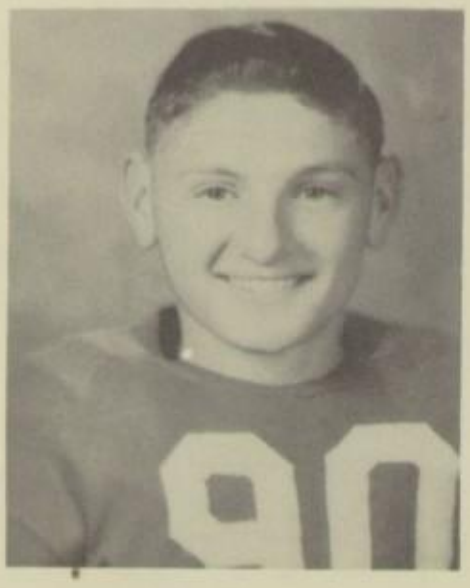
Junior "Slick" Case—Senior—Slick was an excellent blocker as well as a shifty ball carrier at right half. This was his first year at half being a utility man the past three years.

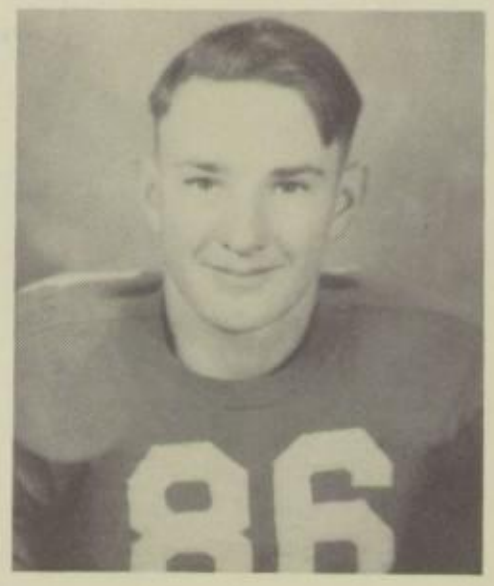
Howard "Hank" Collett—Senior— "Hank", although small, held down the left guard spot very effectively. There were few times when he was taken out of the play entirely, and he was a very effective blocker.

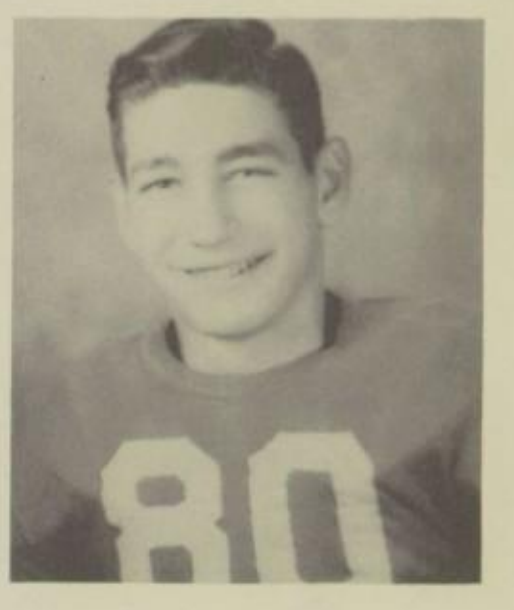
Wallace "Zeke" Good—Senior— At right end, Zeke played an excellent game on defense and offense. His ability to turn in the ball carrier was his outstanding characteristic. This was his second year at Marion as he came from Sedgwick in 1944.

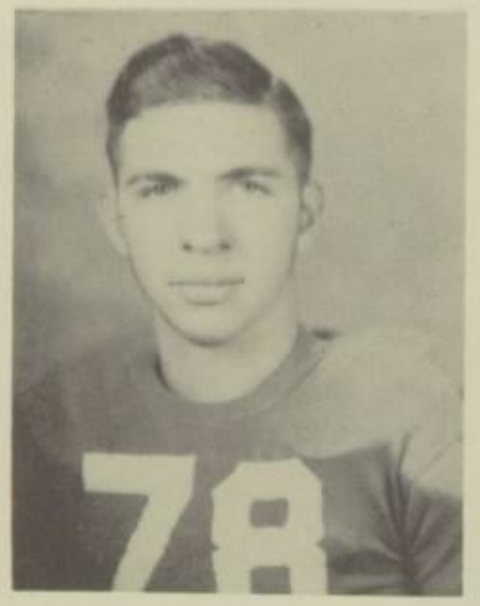








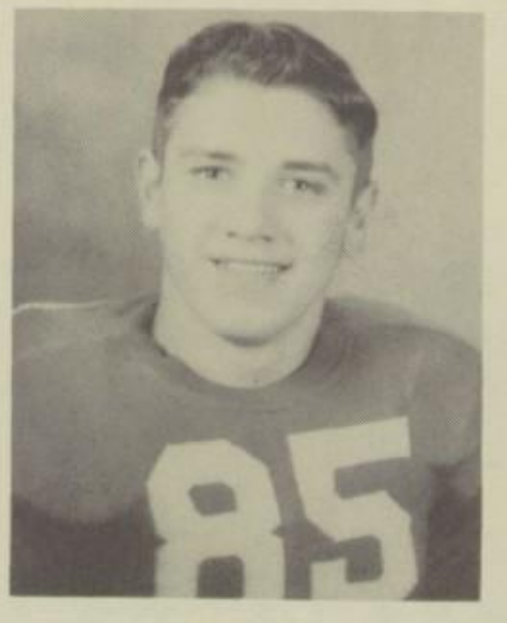




Warren Hayen—Sophomore — Warren won his first letter while playing for the Warriors. He was a valuable player on defense and could catch passes very well. He has two more years to fight for M. H. S.

Dale Vogel—Junior—Dale was Marion's rangy center whose judgment was good and whose passes were always true.

Don Hoover—Senior—Don was a fast, shifty man with unusual ability to snatch passes which made him an excellent end. He always played a good game on defense and offense.



Leroy McDaris—Sophomore—"Mac's" favorite pastime was getting through the enemy's line and breaking up forward passes and blocking punts. He also has two more years to play for M. H. S.

John Hett—Sophomore—John was one of the fightenest men on the team. He was a hard hitting and consistent player. Undoubtedly he will be one of the valuable players in the following years.

Don Schlotz—Junior—Don, although small, always played a fighting game as fullback. Even thought he was not a regular he played his position well and shall continue to do so for another year.

Kenny Conyers— Sophomore—"Kenny" was the smallest sophomore on the team but not the least when it comes to headwork. His headwork won the confidence of the team and will continue to do so in the next two years.

Earl Janzen—Junior—No man was better built for tackle than Earl. Earl proved he could play tackle very well in the Peabody game as he was rarely taken out of the play.
